Complete Revulsion of Feeling for the Panama Convicts.

The People Think the Sentences Were Unduly Severe.

PROFOUND SYMPATHY FELT FOR THE AGED DE LESSEPS.

To the "Blue Stockings" He Is Again En throned as Le Grand Francais-Pardon Will Most Certainly Be Granted the Great Engineer-The Voice of the Press-Appeals Will Be Taken to the Court of Cassation-New Charges Laid.

PARIS. Feb 10. - The people of France may be fickle, but they are not revengeful. A onth ago not a hand would have been raised ng the "blue stockings" to block the way prosecutors of the Panamiters. Tontiment-profound pity for the aged De ow convicts. The press of Paris records the ment of the court with pain. In fact there has come an almost complete revulsion sentiment. The feeling now is that outdoor clamor has invaded the supposed inviolable sanctuary of justice. If ever there was a case that appealed to the indulence of judges it was that of Ferdinand and Charles de Lesseps and M. Fontaine, whos main offense was that they followed a chimera, forgetting the reality of things, the passions of men and the insufficiency of the at their disposal to overmost formidable naobstacles. The judgments are stamped with the cruelty which characterfzes the present campaign. It strikes at a man who formerly was acclaimed as the representative of French genius, energy and greatness. The judges thought that their dgment would appeal to the unrelenting imagination of the populace; they have, in fact, secured unenviable immortality as the judges of Ferdinand de Lesseps. Pardon is ertain to be granted to him, but if cognizant of events he would suffer as much from clemency as from condemnation.

NEW CHARGES LAID. Ex-Minister Baihut, Senator Berat, ex Minister and Deputy Antonie Proust, Deputy Dugue De la Fauconnerie, ex-Deputy Gobron, Charles de Lesseps, M. Ma-rus Fontaine, Henri Cottu and M. Biondin were arraigned in the Palaise de Justice on charges of corruption in connection with the Panama lottery bonds. The indictmen on which they were arraigned sets forth that a note has been found among the papers of Charles de Lesseps, showing that M.
Baihut asked for 1,000,000 francs for introducing the Panama bill in the Chamber. The measure was laid on the tae in the Chamber of Deputies on June 17, on the same day Charles de Lesseps Issued two cash vouchers, the amount of which M. Fon-taine received on the following day. On re-ceiving the money M. Fontaine immeceiving the money M. Fontaine immediately gage 250,000 francs to M. Blondin, who took the money to Baihut at the Senate Chamber. On the 21st of June, M. Blondin paid Baihut a further sum of 125,000 francs. M. Baihut at first denied these facts, finally admitted them, and also admitted that he had applied sums of 12,000 and 5,000 francs to the purchase of Italian rentes.

The indictment concludes by detailing the various charges against M. Fontaine and Charles de Lesseps, who are accused of bribing Bathut and also of having induced M. Arton and the late Baron Reinach to cor-

A COMMUNITY'S COLLAPSE.

John Duss, the Economite President, Accused of Following False Messiahs. PITTSBURG, Pa., Feb. 10.-The long looked or legal battle is on in the Harmony Society. A bill in equity was filed in Beaver chalf of Benjamin Feucht and others of the society, praying for the appoint-of the society, praying for the appointment of a received to wind up the affairs of the community; second, for an injunction restraining Trustees Duss and sleber from encumbering, selling or assigning the property and assets of the society; third, that said trustees be ordered to account in full for the assets since their management; fourth, that Duss and Sleber be ordered to pay over to the receiver the amount of loss sustained under their management; fifth, that an order be made for the dissolution of the Harmony Society and a division of the assets.

Feucht and all the other petitioners are members of the society. In the petition gross mismanagement on the part of the trustees is alleged. It sets forth that recently the society had property valued at $4,000,000, but that a great deal of this has been lost and the petitioners now believe that the society is insolvent. That within six years Duss has sold $2,000,000 worth of valuable stocks, ostensibly for the parment of debts, which debts were contracted through fraud, negligence and mismanagement of Duss. It is alleged that the principles of the society have become obsolete. That Duss and Sleber are living in luxury with their wives, whereas the main principle of the organization is cellbacy; that the other members of the society are compelled to eke out precarious existences; also that the board of elders are confirmed drunkards instead of spiritual leaders. Duss, lit is alleged, has sought to cast discredit upon the teachings of the founder of said society, has declared that it is a question whether the historical Christ or the Christ of the Christians was the true Christ, and has preached the doctrines of one Cyrus Teed, a pretending divine being, living in Chicago, in the State of Illinois, and has courted sympathy with Michael K. Mills, commonly known as "Prince Michael," of Detroit, another pretender of divine attributes who is now serving a term of imprisonment for the commission of a crime.

The bill then goes on to say that the financial affairs of said society have been grossly mismanaged, and are now being grossly mismanaged, and are now being grossly mismanaged by the said Duss and Sieber, "and your orators are informed and believe, and expect to be able to prove that large sums of money received for the sales of lands belonging to said society in Beaver Falls, in said county, large amounts of money received from investments in oil territory, railroad stocks and from other sources, have been lost. That $30,000, and more have been lost, which were invested in a glass works in Beaver Falls aforesaid; that a large amount of money has been invested by said Duss in a planing mill and sawmill at Economy, to wit, $100,000, by which there has been a loss to the society of a sum of $60,000, in addition to the amount invested. That a large sum, to wit, $6,000, has been invested by the said Duss in a steel works in Beaver Falls, which complaints an informed, believe and expect to be able to prove is a losing investment. That in a bank established by trustees of said society in Beaver Falls aforesaid and called 'The Economy Savings Institution,' there has been a loss of not less than $150,000. That the agricultural affairs of said society have been equally grossly mismanared; that large sums of money have been recklessly squandered by said John S. Duss, and lost to the society, he having spent many thousands of dollars in so-called improvements, which have proven total failures.

"Further, your orators are also informed and believe, and expect to be able to prove, that said John S. Duss has given away large sums of money to support one said Cyrus Teed, alias 'Koresh,' who claims that he is goden and said society has been and thous and said cyrus Teed, alias 'Koresh,' who claims that he is goden and saids society has a support one said cyrus Teed, alias 'Koresh,' who claims that he is god

"Further, your orators are also informed and believe, and expect to be able to prove, that said John S. Duss has given away large sums of money to support one said Cyrus Teed, alias 'Koresh,' who claims that he is God, and who is surrounded by certain deluded women, whom he calls his 'angels.' That said John S. Duss has heretofore purposed to introduce said Teed and his associates into the Harmony Society, and as a preparation for this end has erected a large and expensive residence on the lands of said society at Economy for said Teed and his associates at a cost of $17,000.
"And your orators further show that said John S. Duss has now in his hands the management of all the business and affairs of the society; that his said co-trustee and the said elders are entirely under his control, and merely act as his servants and agents; and that he has hitherto rofused and does still refuse to render to the said elders or to the members of said society any statement of account whatever of his management of said affairs, and your orators are ignorant of the true state of the accounts of said society, and have no means of ascertaining the same."

The filing of the bill this morning at Beaver is the hirst step in what may be expected to be a deeply interesting and hotly contested battle in the Beaver courts. The application for a preliminary injunction will be first argued and before an injunction is granted the plaintiffs will have to give bond in a very large amount. The entering of the suit will surprise Economy as much as anyone, for most of the members thought the trouble had blown over and took no stock in the talk of Mr. Ward, who is not a member of the society, and therefore could not be a party to any such suit as this.

No further information was received by either the State or the Navy Department or the Hawaiian Commissioners from San Francisco. none is expected until the arrival of the malis brought by the Australia from Honolulu. It is regarded as probable, however, the line from San Francisco to Washington Mr. Cook, one of the advisory counsel provisional government or Mr. Neuman who comes to represent the lately deposed queen, may have something to say that will throw additional light upon the situation of affairs in the islands. Mr. Thurston had an interview this morning with Secretary of State Foster, and in the course of the afternoon the entire body of commissioners will meet the Secretary in conference at the State Department.

With regard to the story published this morning to the effect that Liliuokalani is willing to abdicate and withdraw all claims upon the payment of indemnity by the United States, it may be said that while this Government in the event of its assuming charge of the islands, will doubtless provide for her and the young princess by annuity or otherwise, there will be no provision made for indemnifying her for any of the crown property of which she may be dispossessed by annexation.

The only news officially received from Minister Stevens is the following, wired from San Francisco on the arrival of the steamer Australia, yesterday: Australia, posterday:

Honolulu, Feb. 1. VIA SAN FRANCISCO, Cal., Feb. 9, 1893.—To Secretary of State: Provisional Government of Hawaii gaining power and respect. Everything is quiet, annexation sentiment is increasing. Dead monarchy and opposition to annexation is supported chiefly by the lottery and opium ring. To-day, at 9 a. m., in accordance with the request of the Provisional Government of Hawaii, I have placed the Government of Hawaii under United States protection during negotiations, not interferprotection during negotiations, not interfer-ing with the execution of public affairs. Dispatches by mail with full details.

Speaking of the dispatch and develop-ments Secretary Foster said the action of Mr. Stevens declaring Hawaii under the protection of the United States was taken without instructions from the Department of State. In fact the movement had not been expected, and had not been anticipated.

Mr. Stevens had, therefore, been compelled to act independently and upon his best judgment as the emergencies had arisen.

THE QUEEN'S CASE.

LILIOUKALANI'S ENVOY BEARS DISPATCHES FROM THE DEPOSED MONARCH.

SAN FRANCISCO, Cal., Feb. 10 .- Oueen Lillon. kalani does not mean to lose her throne without an effort to get some compensation for the sacrifice of royal prerogatives. As stated in yesterday's dispatches, the steamer Australia brought to this country two representatives of the Queen, Paul Neuman and Prince Kawanannkoa. They bear dispatches to President Harrison, the precise contents of which, of course, they will not now disclose. When asked what was the feeling of the Queen and native Hawaiians on the act of Minister Stevens in taking temporary pos-session of the islands in the name of the United States, Mr. Neuman said:

"The Queen and her royal subjects have no objections if the United States chooses to act in such a manner," said Mr. Neuman, with a significant shrug of his shoulders. "Speaking for myself," he continued, "I can see no necessity for such action. The Queen and natives were content to await the decision of the United States Government decision of the United States Government and there was no disposition on their part to make trouble. The financial interests of the island are in good condition. The merchants are fairly prosperous and aithough the operation of the McKinley act has entailed some hardships upon us they could have been overcome in the course of time. I have wired notice of our arrival here to the State Department at Washington and ask the Government to wait until we get there before taking any action toward annexation. We shall start East to-night and will go direct to Washington.' Editor Bush of Honolulu, also came in or the Australia. He claims that the action of Minister Stevens and Capt. Wiltse was en-tirely unwarranted. The soldiers were not needed and the natives bitterly resented it. The trouble is that the natives wanted to govern their own country, and were opposed by a lot of foreigners who were afraid that their interests would be imperiled. There was no such danger, for the native Hawailans are civilized people and respect the rights of others. The action of Minister Stevens in raising the United States flag and declaring a protectorate was a high-handed outrage, and is so regarded by the Hawaiian people. They are perfectly willing to hold close relations with the United States but want to have with the United States, but want to have a voice as to what those relations shall be and how they shall be brought about.

in an interview: "Unquestionably the per ple of Hawaii would prefer annexation to this provisional government. That is the overwhelming sentiment there. I am in hopes, however, that the question will be adjusted speedily and amicably, as we want a justed speeding and amicably, as we want a stable government as soon as possible. At first a majority of the people thought annex-ation was the most desirable way to settle the revolution, but should annexation do away, or even practically do away with contract labor the result would be practically death to the sugar industry and several other important industries of the islands. "Native Hawaiians are now a unit in favor of Americans as against any other national-and the British and French Governments from 1842 to 1844 respecting the seizure of the Hawaiian Islands by Lord Paulet for the British Government. The correspondence ends with the declaration by the British and French Governments of the independence of Hawaii and their guarantee never to seek possession of the islands.

The Senate has in its possession copies of the annexation treaty negotiation between the representatives of the United States and King Kamehameha III. in 1854, together with the correspondence in relation thereto. The correspondence in relation thereto. The correspondence in cludes a letter of instructions from Secretary of State W.L. Marcy to David L. Gregg, United States Minister to Hawaii; Minister Gregg's report to the State Department narrating the circumstances of the negotiations of the treaty and the condition of affairs in the islands at that time; the Minister's report of the death of King Kamehameha and the accession of his successor to the throne; the subsequent decline of annexation sentiment under the new King, and, finally, Secretary Marcy's letter to the Minister expressing his disapproval of the terms of the treaty as negotiated.

The articles of the treaty provide for the cession to the United States of all territory, public buildings, properties and revenue of the islands and the incorporation of the islands and the incorporation of the islands into the Union as a State as soon as was consistent, on perfect equality with other States. In consideration of the cession made, and as compensation to all persons who might suffer loss thereby, the United States was to pay the sum of $800,000 annually to the members of the royal family, the chiefs and other persons whom the King might wish to com-pensate or reward; the United States was further to pay the sum of $75,000 a year for a term of ten years for the support of a college or university and of common schools.

weeks later the Minister communicated to secretary Marcy the fact that the new King Kamehameha IV., was inclined to preserve the independence of the Hawaiian Islands, and he therefore expected a notification to

When Mr. Mechin took charge of Eddle's estate Mr. Delano sent for Kiepper, he says, and told him that he must make a declaration of trust in favor of Foerstel's administrator. This Kiepper refused to do, denying, at first, Delano alleged, that Ed Foerstel had any interest in the property. Then, Delano says, he told Kiepper that unless he did as he was requested, he would prosecute him under the statutes for falling to turn in assets to an administrator.

Mr. Kiepper then became more tractable, so Mr. Delano says, and admitted that Ed's estate was interested and divulged the particulars of the several transactions.

Mr. Delano prepared a deed for Mr. Kiepper to sign, which when presented to him he refused, hence the sult was brought.

"There is a similar case to this," said Mr. Delano, "in which Ed bought a plece of property, paid $5,000 for it and then had the deed to it made in the name of one Corrigan and his wife, taking from them a deed of trust, which was duly recorded.

Keeper Driscoil used every possible effort to liberate the inmates and remained in the building until he was obliged to jump from a second-story window in order to save himself. A messenger was at once dispatched to the city for assistance and a portion of the Fire Department was sent to the scene, but before assistance arrived the building was reduced to ashes and nothing remained but the smoldering ruins.

By the efforts of the firemen the main building of the institution was saved. Those who arrived on the scene early will never forget the horrible scenes witnessed. The fire brightly illuminated the country for miles around and the poor unfortunates could be plainly seen as they writhed and tossed about in the blazing furnace.

The fire was first discovered in a cell occupied by a woman named LaFomlan and was very smail; but Watchman Chesley states that it spread with a rapidity that was astonishing and before he had given the alarm to Keeper Driscoil it had gained such a headway that the only thing left to be done was to attempt to rescue the inmates. The two broke the locks of the fifty cells and then Chesley got out his wife and two children who lived in the building. The fire extended to the main building of the county farm, which was occupied by over 100 of the county's poor.

Supt. De Merritt at once organized a fire brigade of these people and through their heroic efforts the fire was subdued.

I had to run through a sheet of fiame to get to the outside door myself. I gave a general alarm through the big aims-house, but could do nothing to save the inmates."

Keeper Driscoll said he lived in the building with his wife and two children. He was called by the watchman and ran out in his night clothes and did all he possibly could to get the inmates out. He then went back to his room and found it locked. His hands were badly burned. He had to break out a double window to get out his wife and children. He says:

COALE DISGUSTED.

The Art Expert Discusses the Exposition Board's Action

HIS BOLD STATEMENT ABOUT THE MAN-AGEMENT OF CHICAGO'S EXHIBIT.

The Selection of a Chicago Man as His Successor Is What Troubles His Artistic Soul More Than Anything Else-Mr. Wainwright Explains the Arrangements Made.

HARRY BURLESON, a traveling salesman of The announcement that the Art Committee of the St. Louis Exposition had made arrangements for an exhibit next fall that did not include Mr. S. A. Coale as supervisor rain.
The collision occurred on the Grand Rapids t Indiana, near Gilbert's siding, between Radilac and Manton, at 11:30 o'clock last night. Freight No. 14, south-bound, got tailed on the Manton Hill grade. Freight No. 10, following, coupled to No. 14 to pull it but. When near Gilbert's siding a draw bar pooks. of the work of collecting the has caused much conjecture as to the reasons for the committee's action and also as to whether St. Louisans may look for a poor or a good collection. The correspondence informing Mr. Coale of the fact that effort would be year to get along without his valuable services was published in yesterday's Post-DISPATCH. As compared with it oil is as rough as a rocky road. The letter of Mr. Ellis Wainwright, chairman of committee, instructing Manager Frank to inform the committee's determinat and Mr. Galennie's letter to Mr. Coale were coarteous in the extreme and full of expres ons of gratitude for past services re by the gentleman, who has thrice provixcellent art exhibits for the annual Faire have given entire pleasure to Mr. Coals, a part of whose duties it has been to visit the European capitals and art centers annually

Louis connoisseurs. COALE IS DISGUSTED. As yet he has made no written reply to the mmittee, but he talks very freely about it. To a Post-Dispatch reporter he said to-day, in response to the state that the committee had made arrange with a gentleman in chicago by which they expected to secure a splendid collection of pictures, that that was the most disgusting part of the whole affair. "If they had gone to New York," said he, "and secured the aid of some man of national reputation, or had gone anywhere else, it would have been different. But to ask Chicago to the secure and the secure of the secu have been different. But to ask Chicago to furnish us our exhibit is disgusting. Mr. Wainwright takes care to say that the Chicago man was not Prof. Ives, but he does not say it was not Kurts or some other man connected with the Art Department of the World's Fair. He seems to have taken the entire matter into his own hands. Wouldn't you suppose that, after all I have done, he would at least have spoken to me about the advisability of the step he has taken? But he did not." COASTERS' FATE.—While coasting, Albert and Ella Hodgeson ran into an air hole in the river at Rock Island, Ill., and were drowned. LOST A LEG.—Yesterday Miss Lizzle Reilly was run over by an engine at Rockford, Ill., and her left leg so crushed that amputation was necessary.

Mr. Conle was asked if he had tendered his Mir. Conle was asked if he had tendere resignation, and replied: "Oh, I told Galennie six or seven weeks that I would not care to undertake the this year, because there will be five big exhibits in Eastern cities, with the Chicago World's Fair make it very difficult to a creditable collection for st. Louis. I now that it will be very hard to get up make it very diment to secure a creditable collection for St. Louis. I think now that it will be very hard to get up a good art department. Mind me, I hope it will be the best we have ever had, but I don't think it will be. The studios will all be exhausted, the stocks of the dealers low, and great dimently will be experienced in securing loans. But to go to Chicago. I wish I could tell you all I know about the Art Department of the World's Fair. Before they get through with it, it is going to develop the biggest scandal of the age."

"Why not tell what you know?"

"A man may know things and yet not be able to prove them," replied Mr. Coale sententiously.

H. Peterson's Story of His perience With Highwaymen.

Assaulted, Robbed and His Body Placed on the Electric Track.

THE ROBRERS SAID TO HAVE SECURED $300 IN CABIL

How Peterson Was Found-He Is Not ar as to Whether There Was One or More Assailants-Testimony Corroborative of His Story-Application for a Warrant for an Alleged Attempt at Criminal Assault-General

John H. Peterson, a 22-year-old young man, engaged in the ponitry raising busi-ness near Carlyle, Ill., claims that he was assaulted and robbed of some $300 in curency on Florissant avenue, between Cottag e and Mahon's Castle saloon, in North St. Louis, at a late hour last Monday night. In addition to being assaulted and robbed, Peterson is convinced that he was placed by his assailant, or assailants, on the track of the Benton-Bellefontaine railway on Florissant avenue, near Cottage avenue, where car No. 32 ran into him while he was lying prostrate on the track, and after pushing his body along for about one bundred yards, threw him into the gutter unfortunate man had sustained a severely left leg and any number of s and bruises on his body, addition to the wounds on his head, which Peterson is positive were not the result of his being run into by the car, but the work of the person or persons who robbed him of his money. Peterson left his home near Carlyle Monday with the money which was taken from him, with the inten tion of coming to this city to purchase some supplies for his farm, On train to St. Louis he met James D. Lucas, a friend, with whom he had supper at a Washington avenue restaurant, near the bridge entrance. At this resort, ne met his brother, "Aleck," by appointment and after supper set out with him for their home at 2116 Alice avenue. Both brothers got off the car at Mahon's castle saloon, which is located within a short distance of the Peterson residence. The barkeeper at Mahon's says they had several drinks together there and "Aleck" left about 10 o'clock. John, how-they had several drinks together there and "Aleck" left about 10 o'clock. John, however, stayed until close on to the midnight hour, when he left in a sober condition, going south on Florisant avenue. Christ Virden, father of the police officer of that name, and residing with his son at the corner of Warne and Florrisant avenues, was the next one to hear of Peterson. He says that he was awakened by a man's cries for help and putting on his clothes went out to see what was the matter. At the corner of Warne and Florrisant avenues he heard the cries coming from the vicinity of the cottage and, looking in that direction, saw Peterson lying on the street car track. A car was approaching and he hastened forward to warn the motorman to stop. The latter, however, leftently did not hear, although Virden is positive he must have. Anyhow the car did not stop, and the result was Peterson was run into. The unfortunate countryman was then picked up and taken to his mother's home, but she would not believe it was her son and refused to let him be brought in. He was then conveyed to the City Hospital. Tuesday morning Peterson's brother heard of what had happened and went down to the hospital and brought him home, where he is now confined. When seen this morning Peterson related the above story andladded that he was sure he had made no display of his monsy in either the restaurant where he dined or Mahon's saloon.

"What makes me sure that I was assaulted, robbed and placed or left to fall on the tracks," he said, "is the fact that my money is missing. I had it in the saloon, but that is the last I or any of my friends have seen of it."

Mahan's barkeeper says that he is positive Peterson was not full, but have seen of it."

Mahan's barkeeper says that he is positive Peterson was not full, but perfectly able to take care of himself; when he left the saloon. The scene of the robbery and assault, or whatwher it may have been, is well lighted by electric lights, although the resilences in the vicinity are not close together, which gives the locality quite a onesome appearance at night. The accident which befell Peterson was reported, but lothing was known of the robbery until he made known the above facts to-day. The police will investigate the case.

Charge Criminal Assault

Ella Allen, a 14-year-old colored girl, called upon Assistant Prosecutng Attorney Ested morning for the porpose of securing a warrant for the arrest of a negro named Sam, alias Jim Brown, whom she charges with criminally assaulting her. According to the girl's story some time last summer she first met Brown while visiting a friend named Mattie Rice, who was amployed as a domestic servant in a house on Pine street. Mattie Rice, she alleged, locked her up in a room with Brown, who, she claims, assaulted her. At the time she felt ashamed and made no mention of the matter. A few days ago she again met Brown near her sister's house, 8528 North Market street, where she lives, and again upon this occasion, she claims, he dragged her into a shed and repeated the assault. PALMER'S VIEWS. The Illinois Senator Don's Like Greshe

DAILY AND SUNDAY, 15 CENTS A WEEK.

WASHINGTON, D. C., Feb. 10.-The in Washington, generally accepted, that Judge Walter Q. Gresham has been offered and accepted the Secretaryship of State under Cleveland created much gossip here to-day. Cleveland created much gossip here to-day.
Democrats were unwijling to freely express themselves on a subject on which they were not turnished absolute proof. When, for argument's sake, they admitted the statement to be true, the tone was unfavorable.
Mr. Cleveland, it is said by some close friends, did not expect to make an appoint ment of this kind without stirring up a storm in the Democratic party. He hopes, however, that in time the party and the general public will indorse the appointment as eminently fit and proper.
Senator Palmer said this evening that he knew Judge Gresham and admired him, but added:

"I think a good Democrat might have been found somewhere, if not in Illinois, for this, the most important Cabinet place. I know it is claimed Judge Gresham is now a Democrat, but I believe he confesses himself a Democrat only to the extent of having voted for Cleveland at the last election. I am not disposed to criticise hir. Cleveland for his appointment, but I must say I believe many good Democrats will be disappointed. They may have no right to feel aggrieved, for the reason that a President is expected to exercise his own judgment and personal preference in his selection of the Secretary of State, but they are likely to."

The Senator does not think the Illinois Democrats will protest. He evidently believes they will get over their disappointment.

When asked his opinion as to the political wisdom of the appointment, Senator Palmer replied that he felt a delicacy in expressing himself upon the point, because he had not

NEW YORK OPINION. WHAT THE METROPOLITAN PAPERS SAY ON THE

SELECTION. NEW YORK, Feb. 10 .- Editorially the World has this to say upon the selection of Gresham for Sectretary of State:

for Sectretary of State:

Assuming the truth of the report, it is an example of Mr. Cleveland's political boldness thus to call to what is nominally the first place among his advisers, one who has never definitely joined the Democratic party. Judge Gresham is a conspicuous representative of the great host of former Republicans who have broken with their party because of its infidelity to the people's interests and have brought the Democratic party into-power in order to restore fine administration of the national Gevernment to the principles of duty and responsibility on which the nation was founded. Of Judge Gresham's great ability and high character there can be nequestion. He is thoroughly American in all his instincts and training.

In substantiation of the news from Chicago con-cerning dudge Gresham, those close to Mr. Cleve-land in Kew York admitted yesterday that the port-folio of Secretary of State had been offered the Judge and that tyere was reason to believe he would accept. This would make the Cabinet up to date stand:

It is known that Mr. Cleveland has selected his Postmaster General but neither he nor any of his friends will give the name. Some of them say the place has been given to a Western man.

Ex-Gov. Isaac Pusey Gray and his Indiana triends have insisted that the portfolic was promised personally by Mr. Cleveland to ex-Gov. Gray. In refutation of this one of Mr. Cleveland's advisers said: "Who ever heard of Mr. Cleveland promising anything?"

But in any event should the news concerning Judge Gresham turn out to be correct it is not probable that Mr. Cleveland would give the Hoosier State two nlaces in the Cabinet.

The day after the bank closed its doors, the first day of the present month, investigation showed that Horace G. Allis, who was President for three years, had been borrowing large sums of money on paper bearing the indorsement of the bank. Mr. Allis, who is said to owe the bank $700,000, retired from its presidency at its last annual meeting, it being given out as a reason at the time that he intended to devote all his time to the management of the electric time that he intended to devote all his time to the management of the electric street railroad of which he was the owner. Rumors that the bank was in straits were circulated at that time and a run on it took place, brought on by the derun on it took place, brought on by the demand of the Third National Bank of St. Louis for the payment of a loan. The bank's suspension was temporarily averted by the Little Rock Bankers' Association, which came to its assistance with $200,000. LEBANON, Mo., Feb. 16 .- Judge Bland over uled the motion for a new trial in the cel ebrated Wils Howard case this morning and sentenced Howard to be hanged April 7. The attornens for Howard will take the case to the Supreme Court on a bill of exceptions. Howard arrived here this morning from St. Louis, where he has been in jail.

He was tried here by Judge Bland and found gullty of murder in the first degree by a jury guilty of murder in the first degree by a jury on Jan. 15.

He killed a deaf mute, Thomas McMichaels, in Marais County three years ago, thus closing with the murder of an inoffensive man a career of crime that has no equal outside the history of the family feuds of Kentucky and West Virginia. Wils is a Kentuckian and was a potent factor in the noted Wilson-Turner-Howard vendetta of the former State. It was while he and his uncle, Jennings, were in exile in Missouri to escape the officers of the law in Kentucky that the orime for which he was sentenced to-day was committed.

BABIES ON FIRE

Babies burning up, babies in agony from itching and burning eczemas and other torturing, disfiguring, itching, burning, bleeding, scaly and blotchy skin and scalp diseases. None but mothers realize how these little ones suffer when their tender skins are literally on fire. To know that a single application of the Cu-TICURA REMEDIES will in the great majority of cases afford instant relief, permit rest and sleep, and point to a permanent and economical (because most speedy) cure, and not to use them is to fail in your duty. Think of the years of suffering entailed by such neglect, years not only of physical but of mental suffering by reason of personal disfigurement. Why delay a moment longer the use of these great skin cures, blood purifiers, and humor remedies? Cures made in Infancy and childhood are speedy, economical, and almost invariably permanent SANTO DOMINGO CITY, Feb. 10 .- An ex dinary condition of affairs has been de-sed here which may be compared to the English operations in Egypt. Citizens of the United States have acquired rights in San Domingo which place them in virtual control of the nation. The customs receipts have been placed in the hands of the America Domingo Improvement Co., which been organized in New York, the company has the right to appoint every customs official in the country. It is the master of the Dominican peo ple. These Americans have secured from Westerndorp & Co. of Amsterdam, bankers, who originally undertook the work, the from the interior to Puerto Plata, fifty miles or more. It is an immensely valuable con-cession, and awakens much interest in this city among the few people who are intelli-gent enough to appreciate its scope and Westerndorp & Co. floated a large amount of the bonds of Santo Domingo. Six million dollars was the first issue and, according to the contract. $2,000,000 additional could be floated the bonds at 80 per cent of ther face The purpose of the bonds was internal improvements. Santo Domingo languishes because she has not dern methods of transportation from the interior to the seaboard. A railway between Puerto Plata and Santiago de Los Caballeras an inland city, has long been the subject of discussion. The bonds were issued to complete and equip the railway. Only about eleven miles of road are finished and in adtry has become responsible for about $1,800,

The export and import duties amount to about $1,200,000 per annum. Work on the railway ceased, and as there was no credit to obtained, Santo Domingo was left in the without available collateral. The Dutchmen became weary of waiting, and last winter a representative of the Westerndorps crossed to New York to ascertain if the San Domingo claims could not be transferred to citizens of the great Republic. A company was formed to receive the Westerndorp acquirements. The bonds held by Westerndorp & Co. that were not floated have been sent to New York and are now in the vault of a trust company in that city. Mr. Wells of Brown & Wells, who conducted the transaction, came to Santo Domingo City in December. He held consultations and the result of the negotiations was that the Dutch concession has en transferred to the New Yorkers.

There are jealous Dominicans who think they see mischief ahead from acquirement of large financial interests in their country by North Americans. Gen. Luperon is endeavoring to trade on this prejudice to excite a revolution. It will be futile. The present revolution. It will be futile. The present head of the Government is a good man for the place. A strictly constitutional ruler could not maintain his place. The mixed population is inoffensive generally, but through ignorance, is open to the influence of unscrupulous tricksters. The rural in-habitants are peaceable and wish stable gov-ernment, and the business communities are strenuous for order and freedom from evil

THE STORY IN NEW YORK.

Mr. Pocock will send out the notices himself.

The Recorder is now carrying out a plan by which he intends to ascertain exactly in what condition the registration lists of the city are. He is sending out letters to every man whose name was on the registration lists and was not marked "voted." inquiring of him why he didn't vote. Some of the Recorder's curiosity, some are abjectly abologetic, from men who evidently think that they have done something that may get them them into trouble, and others are humorous. One man says he was sick in bed, another that he was away, and another that he was minding the baby while his wife was writing an article for a woman's rights paper. One man asks sarcastically if his vote would have changed the result and prevented the O'Nell-Joy recount. Great bundles of the letters are not delivered by the carriers and are returned by the postman, while many replies show that the last Board of Revisors, in spite of the wholesale striking off, left the registration list stuffed, or that numbers of people in the city have been moving during the cold weather.

How Mrs. Mayhew Is Alleged to Have Go Mrs. Hofmeister's Articles. The issuing of a warrant against Mary Mayhew of 8861 Garfield avenue, who was arrested yesterday by detectives Gallagher and Roach, disclosed a very interesting story. Mrs. Barbaro Hofmeister of 3512 North Ninth street swore out the warrant, which on its face was a simple charge of petit larceny, accusing Mary highew with stealing a ring, dress and overcoat valued altogether in the warrant at $50, although Mrs. Hofmeister said that they were worth over $100.

The story back of this was that Mrs. Hofmeister came to St. Louis from Chicago last July, bringing with her $6,000. Her husband had died in Chicago and she said that she had formed the friendship of a man named Richard Stein, who induced her to remove to St. Louis. Mrs. Hofmeister had several children. She arrived in St. Louis July 21, last. Stein had procured a house for her at 1424 North Vandeventer avenue, where they went to live, she said. Hofmeister of 3512 North Ninth street swore they went to live, she said.
Stein told her, she claimed, that he knew of a saloon which he could buy for $5,400, and she gave him the key of her box in the Safe Deposit Co., she alleges, to get the money. That was the last she saw of him, money. That was the last she saw of him, she averred.

He left on July 25, and on July 27 a woman called to see her, she states, who represented Perself first to be a female detective, and later said that she was a fortune teller. Mrs. Hofmelster said that the woman told her that she could bring Stein back. The woman sprinkled something on the floor in a circle, which Mrs. Hofmelster said she thought was flour or baking powder. She then took a suit of Stein's clothes and burned it, and told Mrs. Hofmelster to walt a day or two and that Stein would come back and stand in the circle.

Mrs. Hofmeister says she gave the woman the ring and other articles for which the warrant was sworn out to-day to be kept until the charm should work. Stein not returning in the time set she reported the matter to the police. The attention of the police was called to Mis. Mayhew by letters received by the police. Mrs. Mayhew lives alone in a two-room flat and hasamant and keeps a large number of and basement, and keeps a large number of dogs. She claims to be a Spiritualist.
When shown the letters, Detectives Gallagher and Roach coupled the case of Mrs. Hofmeister with her. Mrs. Mayhew was arrested and identified, Stein is still missing, however.

EAST ST. LOUIS. Lively Times in Brooklyn Over the Employment of a Village Counselor. W. P. Launtz and Mortimer Millard, wellrecently engaged by the Village Council of Brooklyn to look after the interests of the village on the river front. Since Brooklyn to look after the interess of the village on the river front. Since the May flood there have been a creations from the river, which formed valuable ground that the village lays claim to, and to prevent land grabbers from obtaining possession of it legal counsel has been employed for the special purpose of looking after the acquired property. Since the employment of the attorneys, the Village Council decided to employ a special counselor for other legal work, and appointed Attorney Launtz to the position. This left Attorney Willard in sole charge of the river front interests. After being made village counselor, Attorney Launtz asked for remuneration for his services while associated with Mr. Millard. The council denied his request, and he brought suit for the amount he claimed was due him. Alexander Flannigen, another East St. Louis attorney, was employed by the Council to defend in the Launtz case, and several of the Brooklyn trustees resolved to make him special counselor. At a meeting of the Council Wednesday night, at which President Fred Vanderburg presided, a resolution was introduced to make Flannigen special counsellor in place of Launtz. Attorneys Flannigen and Launtz were both present. The resolution raised a discussion which is said to have ended in a free fight, and persons who were spectators say that a more ludicrous scene was never witgen and Launtz were both present. The resolution raised a discussion which is said to have ended in a free fight, and persons who were spectators say that a more ludicrous scene was never witnessed. Tables and chairs were overturned, ink bottles and other missiles were thrown about the room, and pandemonium reigned for a time. A number of persons rushed for the Goor and attempted to go out, but were prevented from doing so by an obese German saloonkeeper, who in his excitement forgot that the door opened inward, and pushed so hard against it in his frantic attempts to get out that he prevented the others from making an exit. After the flight the neeting broke up, and the business was continued. Judge Launtz is still village counselor and the Flannigen resolution remains on the table. A distressing istate of affairs at Brooklyn, the little village three miles nerth of East St. Louis, which is mainly inhabited by colored people, is reported. It is said that gambling and other vices flourish there. The principal causes for complaint, it seems, are two houses, in which Saturday night dances are given every week. Many of the lower class in Brooklyn and numbers of disreputable residents of the colored quarters in St. Louis are aloged to attend these dances regular. Poker, craps, wheel of fortune and other gambling games are said to be run openly in both the houses alluded to, to the great annoyance and disgust of all residents there who hay claim to respectability.

One of Brooklyn's citizens was in East St. Louis boday to consult with Chief of Police Waish in regard to the prosecution, and left, wowing his determination to wipe out gambling in Brooklyn. The affair boys are about 9 years of age each. By a rule of the board each school has an "early" room in cold weather in which the pupils who come before their teacher arrives, are allowed to remain. One teacher is appointed to keep order in the "early" room, and she is expected to be on hand at 8 o'clock sharp. The teacher in charge of the room to-day had just arrived when the sensational scene occurred. Differing stories are told of the affair. The most curious version is the one given by the principal, Mrs. Marie Erskine. She says that young Codshlin, on his way to school met a man who gave him an old dull rasor. The lad hurried to the "early," and finding that the teacher in charge had not come he resolved to have some fun. To accomplish this design he attempted to shave Chapting but the latter proke away from Coughlin overtook him, and when oys are about 9 years of age each.

he renewed the attempt to shave Chapiro the latter resisted and the razor sank into his beardless lip. When Mrs. Erskine heard of the affair she sent for Officer Taylor, who is regularly stationed at the school. The parents of the two boys were summoned to the school also, and Mrs. Chapiro was persuaded not to prosecute. Dr. Armstrong was called to attend little Chapiro, who now has several stitches in his lip and a lot of bandages about his head as a result of his first shave. He is confined to his home on the southwest corner of seventh and Biddle streets. Mrs. Erskine sent young Coughlin to his home, No. 1220 North Sixth strret, with directions not to return. Mrs. Coughlin said to-day that the affair was an accident, as her son Cornelius was trifling with the razor when Chapiro got in the way. She blamed the man who gave the boy the razor. The Chapiros, on the other hand, allege that Coughlin acted very deliberately in his attack upon little Morris. Officer Taylor took charge of the razor, but Mrs. Erskine persuaded him not to make a report of the case. report of the case.

THE chief offenders in the Panama crime are severely punished. This is better than is done in this country where the least guilty are usually made scapegoats and are punished in place of the principal offenders.

WITH yellow fever, cholera and revolutions, the time of our South American friends appears to be pretty well occupied just now. Happily they have not thought of agitating for annexation to the United States. THE annexationists would give a good fat fee for a little more time. They can not play their game out before Cleveland takes charge, when they will find out the difference between a plutocratic and Democratic policy.

ABOLISH THE CORRUPTION PUND.

The corrupt practices bill introduced in the Legislature by Senator Cochrane of St. oseph offers a valuable ally of the Australian ballot law for guarding the purity of the ballot box.

Experience since the adoption of th Australian act has proved that this law does not cover the whole ground of legislation needed to prevent dirty work in elections. The use of money is the root of political corruption, and as long as the boodle fund may be raised and expended the venal voter has reason for existence and the political heeler will find ways to defeat the popular will by corrupt

This bill strikes at the corruption fund which has been the bane of American politics. By limiting the expenditures of candidates and requiring sworn statements of expenditures from both candidates and committees it throws dangers and difficulties in at the only method by which special interests can exert's corrupting influence on such opposition except fear of the result

Aside from the question of corruption, the elimination of boodle as a factor in determining elections has a strong foundation in justice and sound public policy through the fact that it would place the poor man and the rich man on anjequal basis Nominations and elections to office would be removed from the market which has been such a source of profit to the bosses and their henchmen.

A GRAB CONSPIRACY.

The extraordinary act of Minister Ste vens in placing the Sandwich Islands under the protection of the United States can only be justified on the ground of an urgent request from Hawaiian authorities in recognized possession of governmental powers, based upon manifest necessity for the preservation of life and property. As a rule, before such interference can be defended as right and proper under the law of nations, the government asking for protection should be an established government, or if resulting from revolution it must be able to show that it is a de facto government likely to maintain itself and enforce its rule. The policy of the United States Government has been one of extreme caution, requiring proof of power based on popular support or acquiescence

But what is the situation in Hawaii? All the evidence is against the necessity of interference by the American Minister. No armed resistance had been offered to the revolution and there was no apparent danger of violence. The Government asking the aid of the United States had just come into apparent power by a revolutionary stroke. There is no proof that it in any sense represented either popular resistance It is another example of the use of the law wrong or the will of the people entitled to rule the country. The proof is entirely the other way and the circumstances point to the fact that the support of the United States was desired to overawe the people rather than to preserve life or property. To make matter worse the faction seizing the government and asking aid of the United States was composed of foreign residents represent> terests. If a nation pursuing a purpose of greedy aggression had desired to seize Hawaii it would have adopted the plan conceived and executed by the American speculators and Minister Stevens in Honolulu. The lessons of colonial conquest taught by the land-grabbers of Europe have been followed to the letter by Spreckels and his

involved by its representative. There is reason to believe that when the whole truth is known this Government will have to discredit its Minister and wash its hands of the whole affair to avoid disgrace.

GET READY FOR THE WORST.

The necessity of stringent sanitary reglations at this juncture was clearly and emphatically set forth at the meeting of he Board of Public Improvements yesterday by Mr. Robert Moore. "No ex-penditure the city can make at this time." said he, "will be a tithe of what it will have to bear should the cholers come and eatch us unprepared as at present. No city can afford to do nothing in the face of this danger, for, doing nothing, they invite the worst possible disaster."

The situation in St. Louis is, according to Mr. Moore, an exact parallel to that in Hamburg, where the cholers raged last summer. In that city new water-works were under construction, but the cholers did not wait for their completion. During the epidemic 8,000 persons died, and the business of the city suffered a loss of $35,000,000, traffic being wholly suspended for a part of the time. What assurance have we that we may not expect a similar experience in St. Louis if the authorities do not find a way to put the place in good sanitary condition, particularly with eference to the water supply?

It seems to be agreed that the temporary plant to supply purer water pending the completion of the permanent works is practicable and so it should be undertaken without delay. A penny spent now may save a dollar six months hence, to say nothing of averting pestilence and death. Cholera may not visit America this year, but we have every reason to fear that it will, and it is the duty of the city authorities as well as of every citizen to prepare for the worst.

THE Alabama Legislature has voted lown a proposition to held a Constitutional Convention. An old constitution may be defective, but people know just what it is. They cannot guess what a new one will be. The possibilities of a new constitution are great, and they may be anything but beneficial. People who want reforms will do well to begin by hustling to get good men into the Legislature. The right kind of Legislatures would help matters very much in all the States. The corporations hustle to elect their men; why should not individual citizens do a little work for themselves and their country?

THE enemies of the underground wire bill oppose the appointment of a special the path of the political boodler. It strikes committee to investigate the subject is this city. What reason can there be for elections for the accomplishment of their of an investigation? They know that a committee sent to St. Louis would find not only proof of the need of the Stone bill. but an overwhelming demand among the people of St. Louis for a measure of that kind. The significance of this attitude of the representatives of the wire companies should have its full and proper effect upon the Legislature.

while Secretary of State he appointed as minister to that country his trusted friend, John L. Stevens.

It seems that Mr. Stevens, at the instigation of a few plutocratic foreigners, and claiming to do so at the request of the provisional Government of Hawaii, in a manner has at last succeeded in carrying out the wishes of his dead bosom friend and leader. To say the least, Mr. Stevens' behavior, backed up by United States bayonets, was entirely uncalled for.

The Provisional Government behind which Mr. Stevens shields himself represents not the natives of Hawaii, but a handful of foreigners who, not satisfied with having robbed the natives of their land, now desire the United States to annex the island, in order that they may control and manage at their own sweet will the original owners of the island, and for the purpose of taking an active part in the McKinley steal at the rate of 2 cents bounty per pound on sugar. Let Congress abolish the bounty on sugar, and the annexationists will be like angels visits, few and far between.

As our own present National Administration represents the interests of those who enjoy special privileges at the expense of the great majority of the American people, it is only reasonable to believe that Mr. Stevens would hardly have undertaken the step he did unless he had received a secret and gentle hint from Washington.

Mr. Foster disclaims any knowledge of Mr. Stevens' action, but who does not know Foster, the secret mission diplomat?

Street Improvement Costs.

To the Editor of the Post-Dispatch: I was a citizen of Washington City at the time of its reconstruction by the cel-Boss Shepherd and owner of considerable erty and a taxpayer. The amount of property and a taxpayer. The amount of tax assessed against the property was one-sixth on each side of the street, two-thirds to the city. This included grading, sewering, paving, sidewalks, etc. If private property was damaged by change of grade the owners were paid the damage. If bricks or curbing were taken the owners were credited for the same. On the decay of wood blocks asphaltum was laid without cost to the property. The streets of St. Louis belong to the city and the carriage way should be paved by the city and not by the property fronting on the street. The poor man or widow who owns a little lot of ground and and not able to keep a horse and buggy shouldmot in justice pay for paving the carriage way for the benefit of the public, including the gentlemen of the Board of Public Works, who would then make it a boulevard or a bully nice drive for their fine horses.

CORRUPT PRACTICES ACT.

The Civil Service Reform Association has started in again to pass the corrupt practices act which failed of passage in the last session for the principal reason that it was introduced too late in the session. Mr. Charles Claim Allen of the Association came up from St. Louis yesterday and had the measure presented in the Senate late in the afternoon by Senator Cochran of St. Joseph. The bill is similar in most of its details to the measure introduced two years ago. It embraces many of the features of the laws now in force in New measure introduced two years ago. It embraces many of the features of the laws now in force in New York, Connecticut and other States.

The whole object of the bill is told in the title, which reads as follows: "An act to prevent corrupt practices in elections, to limit the expenses of candidates, to prescribe the duties of candidates and political committees, and provide penalties and remedies for yiolation of this act." The advocates of the measure have had a summary prepared for the use of the Assembly which fully explains the salient features of the bill. This reads as follows:

SUBSTANCE OF THE BILL. The evils which it is intended to correct by this bill are: Bribery at elections, whether by means of money or other corrupt inducements: the use of force or intimidation to control or influence votes; the personation of votes; the unlimited expenditure of money by candidates and politicat committees in and about elections. by the bill includes the receiving, as well as the giv-ing or lending, or promising to procure money or ether thing of value, office, place or employment, in order to induce voters to v-re or to refraint from vot-ing, or to procure the election of any person to a public office, or corruptly doing any such act on ac-count of voters having voted or refrained from vot-

The bill delines and prescribes the punishment for the offense of "personation" of voters.

The amount of money or value which a candidate for public offices may lawfully expend or promise to pay in connection with his nomination or election is limited to sume based upon the number of all voters who voted for candidates for such offices at the last preceding election. A proceeding is provided by which the candidate receiving the next highest vote may, at any time during the term of office, out the incumbent and recover the office upon proof of violation by the incumbent of the provisions of the bill.

The bill defines a "political committee" and requires every such committee to appoint and maintain a treasurer; and requires that all sums of money received by such committee to members thereof for political purposes shall be paid over to the treasurer. Every treasurer of a political committee is required to keep a book in which he shall enter and keep detailed statements of moneys received and disbursed by him: and after every election to file a sworn statements of such receipts and disbursements with the Recorder of Deeds for County of the Treasurer's residence; which the county of the Treasurer's residence; which fall the county of the Treasurer's residence; which fall the county of the Treasurer's residence; which statements in such statements of new such accounts or the property of the present and the property of the treasurer's residence; which is made a unisdementor, punishable by thes.

Senator Cochran is a strong believer in purer methods than are used in politics at the present day, and he will work hard to keep the bill moving in his end of the Capitol.

THE CEMETERY BILL.

A deputation representing the interests of Calvary Cemetery in St. Louis appeared before the Senate Committee on Eleemosynary Institutions last night, and urged the defeat of Senator Espenchied's cemetery bill. This is the bill imposing new cemetery regulations for cities of 75,000 and over, which includes only St. Louis and Kanasa City. The delegation was composed of Mesers, J. B. C. Lucas, Alexander H. Handian, Jr., Edward T. Farrish and Festus J. Wade, all members of the board controlling Calvary Cemetery. The bill is so framed as to prevent the Calvary Cemetery managers from using the tract adjoining the Cemetery, purchased a year or two since from Archbishop Kenrick. Most, if not all, the money realized by that sale was used in the purchase by the Archbishop of the old Visitation Convent on Cass avenue for a Diocesan Seminary. The tract thus secured is extensive and needed, as the present s old Visitation Convent on the action Diocesan Seminary. LOGRIG FOR A SLICE OF SALARY.

Ex Circuit Atterney Ashley G. Clover appeared before the House Committee on Appropriations last evening looking for the 5700 that was legislated dut of his salary two years also by the same committee. The committee then had a majority of reformers in its composition as it has now, and they reached out in every direction to cut at salaries. For the past thirty years the State has allowed the Circuit attorney of St. Louis 5300 per annum for the purpose of reminerating him for special services, such as instituting and defending and warranto proceedings and the like, and no objection was raised until two years ago, when Senator Lyman, who was then the chairman of the House Committee on Appropriations, had the 1700 set apart for the two succeeding fiscal years cut out of the bill entirely, spresuming that a bill would be carried justifying such action. The bill, however, never passed, but the appropriation bill went through, leaving Clover's 5700 out entirely. Mr. Clover expects to have the matter corrected in the denciency appropriation's 500n to be reported.

FEES OF RECORDERS.

Representative Robern who introduced the bill to reduce the fees of Recorders, so as to cut the salary of William A. Hobbs from $1,000 to $3,000 per year, was before the Committee on Fees and Salaries hast night and made a long argument for its passage. Representative Julius Wurzburger, who is a member of the committee, asked some questions that did not suit Robern. He wanted to know if the bill was a piece of spite-work, as has been charged by some of the members. Mr. Robern insisted that it was not. The bill will be reported next week, but the committee has not yet decided whether it will be in the affirmative or negative.

There is a territory 100 miles square northwest of the park that is being divided up into blocks and placed on the market as residence property. The Experience of Passengers On a Car That Failed.

Agrip car on the cable line had run into an electric train at Fourteenth street, and the Franklin avenue line was blockaded. Passengers poured out of each car of both lines as it came to the obstruction and stopped. Some hastened on down town, dreading the power of the superintendent or floor-walker that a minute's tardiness was sure to provoke. A few surrounded the conductor, clamoring for the fares they had paid.

A NEW MESSIAH.

He Has to Prove His Sanity, But Not to

His Disciples. COLUMBUS, Kan., Feb. 10,-In the Probat Court, David Deem is before a jury who are inquiring into his sanity. The town is full of people and much interest is being manifested in the trial. Deem has a following of several hundred people in this and adjoining coun ties, who believe that he is possessed of divine power to heal the sick, restore the mained and prolong life to infinity. He teaches that the milennium has come and that to him is delegated the leadership of the faithful. In the past few weeks several separations of families have occurred and several parties have become insane on account of the religious craze of which he is the originator.

A PREACHER'S HARD LOT. COLUMBIA, S. C., Feb. 10.—The Rev. A. W. Attaway, a highly esteemed minister of the South Carolina Methodist Conference, was with his wife, adjudged insane a few days ago and both committed to the State Lunatic Asylum. It was alleged that their affliction Asylum. It was alleged that their affliction was due to intense religious fervor. A sensation has been caused in Methodist circles by the publication of a card by the Rev. J. P. Attaway, a kinsman of the insane preacher and also a member of the conference, who indignantly denies the assertion that religion was the cause of his brother's and sister's insanity, but declares that it was due to poverty and privation endured by the unfortunate pastor and his family while in the discharge of his duties, and for which state of affairs he holds the church authorities responsible.

Let us hope that our merciful Creator, knowing the unsteadlness of men, may condone the folly of many."

"I remember about 1878 or '79 when we had the old Olympic company Mrs. Willett came here with her little girl, a very pretty child of about 18. She said she wanted her to go on the stage and be an actress, as she had displayed considerable talent in that direction. We had no place for her just then so she went to what is now the Grand and joined I think the company there. I know in the early part of her stage career she played with John McCullough."

"Fares are rung up and we can't give them back without paying for them ourselves," said he.

"But I've sees you return fares to passengers on several occasins," said the man.

"Now," said the conductor, aware that others with a suppressed desire for nickels were listening to the young man's protest, "there is no rule on the line about that, but it is understood at the office that if the train is delayed as long as twenty-five minutes, the passengers who wait can get their money back."

"It hought you refunded if the passenger had not gone a mile," said another of the group.

"No, sir. I've heard that, but I don't know how that idea started," said the conductor. "We can't remember where a passenger got on."

"Then, if we wait for twenty-five minutes we can get our nickels?" asked an impatient man in a fur coat.

"That's what," the conductor replied.
The group began to melt, flowing downtown. "You are sure you don't make any mistake in reporting to the office how many people waited the twenty-five minutes," the young man who had led the nickel riot flung over his shoulder as he started off.

The conductor and the gripman gazed after him forgivinely. The conductor and the grapman, "skip in there "Jim," said the grapman, "skip in there and get out a plug, will you? I'm nearly out."

Drost, a Tyrannical Husbane Killed by George Doetzel. Frank Drost, a green goods grocer and eddler, was shot last night in Jacob Gent's saloon, No. 1901 Lynch street, by George

Drost from all accounts was a man of violent temper and was in the habit of beating his wife and abusing his children. Some time ago he employed Doetzel in his store and the latter proved to be a good salesman. Then it was that Doetzel met Mrs. Drost, who lives at 2802 Lemp avenue. About nine weeks ago Drost had a row with his wife and was prevented from murdering her by Doetzel. Brost was arrested and would have been fined had his wife prosecuted him. After this incident Doetzel went to work for Mrs. Drost, who is also in the green grocery business, Drost has been jealous of Doetzel for some time, and lest night when Boetzel started out in hourt a lest night when Boetzel started out in hunt a Drost from all accounts was a man also in the green grocery business. Drost has been jealous of Doetzel for some time, and last night when Doetzel started out to hunt a new stable for Mrs. Drost's horse, which is usually kept in the rear of Gent's saloon, he was met by Drost and three other men. Drost set upon him and beat him unmercifully until he ran back into the house. There Drost insulted his wife and threw a tin beer bucket at her. Then Mrs. Drost took a pistol from the drawer and tried to cock it, but failed. Doetzel was in the back room, and Drost was getting violent in the other. Taking the pistol from Mrs. Drost, Doetzel ran out of the house, followed by Drost. He ran across the street to Gent's and locked the door. Drost followed and smashed in the door. Doetzel backed off and Drost advanced so furiously that Doetzel fired thres shots. One missed, but two builets hit fatal spots. It was clearly a case of self defense, according to the witnesses.

The testimony was that there had been a grudge of long standing between the men. Smith entered the saloon where Anderson was sitting and accused him of having stolen some tools from him. Anderson replied by calling him a — liar and Smith struck him. They were separated and Smith left the saloon, inviting Anderson to follow. The latter did so. And as he was passing out of the door he drew a revolver and fired two shots at Smith. One builet took effect in the abdomen and the other in the back. ## Completely Uprooted.

How many remedies there are which merely re lieve without uproofing disease. The contrast with sterling medicines which such palliatives afford, not only enhances the dightty of the former, but serves to emphasize the folly of employing halfway measures when thorough ones are available. A marked instance of this is the effect, on the one hand, of Hostetter's Stomach Bitters in cases of chilis and fever and bilious remittent, and on the other of ordinary remedies in maladies of this type. By the Bitters, maisrial complaint in every stage, and of the most malignant type, are completely conquered and lose their hold upon the system. They are rarely, if ever, dislodged by the ordinary resources of medicine, although their symptoms may unquestionably be mitigated through such means. #### REAL ESTATE INTERESTS.

Good Market but Bad Weather Interferes With the Agencies-Sales.

Up to the present time this week 164 cor veyances have been filed for receiving sale amounting to $775,895. In proportion to the amount of property sold, according to the figures stated, the number of transfers amount of property sold, according to the figures stated, the number of transfers is comparatively large. This feature of the market indicates that the business is not being done by only a few people who have bought a few parcels of property involving large sums of money, but it does show that there is a general demand for St. Louis real estate and that it to being purchased by the masses who are putting money into all the different grades of property. This is certainly a prosperous indication and one that adds additional security to values. It shows that the market is not created by a few operators, but that it is being stimulated and supported by the purchases of the public at large.

In explanation of the apparent discrepancy in the number of sales reported by agents and the volume of transfers filed for record, it has been suggested with apparent good evidence that the business of conveying property direct from the seller to the buyer without the assistance of an agent is a custom that has grown immensely in this city within the past two years, and that this method of making transfers is steadily increasing and is likely to increase proportionately with the growth of the real estate business.

On the other hand a very large ness.

On the other hand a very large majority of the most successful real estate operators absolutely refuse to buy or sell a parcel of property except through an agent, and object to being known either as a buyer or seller until such information may become absolutely essential at the closing of a transaction, and in many cases they buy and sell in the name of some other person.

SOLD FOR $30,000.

A sale of 50x73 feet of ground with an old two-story brick house, situated on the north side of Market street, west of Eighteenth street, opposite the new Union Depot, was perfected to-day at $600 a. foot by A. Boeck & Co., Mrs. E. L. Hager beilff the grantor and Michael Quinn the purchasel. In view of the fact that J. G. Brandt paid $700 a foot for ground in this same block last month, it is quite evident that Mr.' Quinn has secured an excellent bargain.

Cornet & Ziebiz, representing the Standand Realty Co., report the purchase, through Charles H. Turner & Co.'s agency, of an aggregate frontage of 120 feet of property from John M. Harney, situated in detached parcels on Seventh, Ninth and Eleventh streets, between Cass avenue and O'Fallon streets, $15,000 being the consideration.

The same firm also reports the sale of 19x104 feet of ground with an oid one-story brick house under a three-year lease, located on the north side of Market street, between Tenth and Eleventh, for $10,000, from J. D. Lucas to K. C. Lampton.

THE RECALCITRANT JUDGES St. Clair County's Court President, Out of Jail on Leave. Raturns. KANSAS CITY, Mo., Feb. 10. - County Judges

Clair County, who are under sentence of contempt of the United States Court on refusbonds of the county, returned to their quarters in jail last night. They had been home on a furlough with the consent of Judge Phillips.

It was a sad mission that took Judge Cohnhaver temporarily from jail to his home. His daughter Caroline, aged 22, had become a raving maniac, and it was to send her to an asylum that the judges visited St. Clair. The young woman's reason began failing eight years ago when her father was in Jefferson City, imprisoned yorder of the late Judge Krekei for exactly the same thing for which Judge Phillips has cut off his liberty at present. Judge Phillips has cut off his liberty at present. Judge Phillips has cordered Marshal Stewart to give the prisoners only two hours exercise a week, instead of the four they have been getting. He also gave orders that they were not to be allowed to go to the Government to the same thing for which Judge Phillips has cut off his liberty at present.

Passenger Trains Blockaded All Over the zard in years raged here last night and reports at the railroad offices are that it was general throughout the Northwest. At 8 o'clock yesterday afternoon the gillinois Central announced that its road was blockaded east from this city across the entire State. Several trains are in the snow and both the local and Chicago express trains are abandoned here, while not a train is moving on the line. A general blockade prevails over the MilwauKee company's system in South Dakota, and the Northwestern is sharing the same fate.
Both the Maple River and Lake City divisions of the Northwestern east of this city are blockaded. The Chicago passenger which left this city at 4 o'clock is laid up east of the city. The Union Pacific has two trains in the snow between this city and Columbus Junction. Both the Omaha and St. Paul divisions of the Chicago, St. Paul, Minneapolis & of the Chicago, St. Paul, Minneapolis of the Chicago, St. Paul, Minneapolis of Mahar road are blockaded and trains aban doned. The Sloux City & Pacine is still ope from here to Omaha. Snow plows are unable to make any p.ogress, the snow drifting is behind them to the tops of cuts almost a quickly as they pass through.

The Dozier School's Needs. Mrs. S. W. Griffith. Principal of the Dozier ol, has written to Mr. Joseph Merriman stating that her school was not mentioned tions reported to the Board by the Teachers and Ways and Means Committees. She states that the school is in most urgent need of additional school room. At present two extra rooms are rented at $40 per month each and there are two sets of children in the primary room besides hall classes, so that fully 100 children receive half day instruction only, although entitled to whole day instruction. At the close of the first quarter the school had an enrollment of 430 pupils, with 404 belonging. There are enough pupils, she states, to fill eight rooms. If relief is not granted before next year, those of four classes will have to be sent away from the school to some other. Wm. O'Brien McDonough's Racing Outfit for '93-Otto Stiefel's String-Jimmy Larkin Wants Another Go With Griffin - Base Ball Gossip - Sporting News of All Sorts.

The latest turf king to come out of the 'golden remote wild West' in search of astern racing trophies is William O'Brien McDonough, the young California millionaire who recently distinguished himself by pay ing $150,000 for the English stallion Ormonde lespite the fact that the animal is a roarer of the pronounced type. This cannot be taken as evidence of bad judgment on his part, for Charles Reed, the owner of the great St. Blaise, offered as much as $125,000 for the animal. Mr. McDonough is going in for racing on a large scale this year and will inaugurate his campaign in this section in the early spring. Henry Walsh, who had charge of affairs at Palo Alto for a number of years, is in charge of the string. Herein Mr. McDonough has followed the example of many other clever ene pictures, in the World's Fair Art horsemen in putting a trotting horse trainer in charge of his stock.

Mr. McDonough's string compises twenty-six head, of which all but two are 2-yearolds. The older horses are the Australian Menowall and the Midlothian colt, who is even now one of the fancied candidates for the American Derby. The 2-year-olds were nearly all bred in California, and should they turn out well Pacific Slope stock will receive an additional boom. The youngsters consist of the following lots, all as yet being un-

THAT STAMBOUL RECORD. San Francisco, Cal., Feb. 10.—"It is all bosh, this talk about Stamboul not making 2:071/2 in his trial of Nov. 23, last," said Frank Covey, manager of the Stanford ranch, Palo Alto. Mr. Covey yesterday returned from Texas, where he has been for some time in charge of a consignment of horses. "There can be no doubt as to the honesty of the record made," said he. "I was in the timers' stand and know that the stallion trotted a mile in 2:07½, the tale telegraphed from Sacramento to the contrary notwithstanding. The National Trotting Association has accepted the record, but the American Trotting Registry Association has rejected it on a technicality. The Trotting Association is the head of 75 per cent of the trotting association is a close corporation formed for the purpose of issuing a year book. The result of the matter probably will be that the National Trotting Association will hereafter issue its own year book. The decision of the Registry Association has been a hard blow to California breeding interests and has worked hardship to a number of owners. Covey, manager of the Stanford ranch, Palo trained by John Garcia, who handled the Gambrinus stable for Stiefel & Sharr last season, is no more. The string was gathered together after the legitimate season on the Western circuit closed last year and taken to New Orleans, where Garcia raced them until last week. Among the performers in the lot were Wautauga, Nathan Frank, Baro, Neufen and the 2-year-old L. & N. The last two, however, were not started at the Crescent City track. With the remaining Garcia won nearly $2,000. As was stated in the Post-Disparce the horses were shipped last week to the Churchill Downs Course at Louisville, where the rest of Stiefel's string is quartered, in charge of Trainer Lew Elmore. The latter will prepare Nathan Frank, Wautauga and one or two of the rest, for a short campaign at the Chicago tracks previous to the inauguration of the regular Western season at Memphis. "Boots" Bellairs, who accompanied Garcia down to New Orleans, is still located at that point. He writes to his father, C. W. Bellairs, the St. Louis Jockey Club handicapper, that Sid Berry, who has one of the strongest strings at the Crescent City, track, is anxious to sign him, and the chances are that he will accept Berry's offer.

CORRIGAN PRESIDING HIMSELF.

CORRIGAN PRESIDING HIMSELF. Hawthorne is without a presiding judge these days, and Ed Corrigan himself occupied the position yesterday. Ever since Judge Maione left Second Judge McGavock has occupied the position of presiding judge. But he is such no longer. The split came from the Bon Air-Packhorse race of Tuesday, in which Gregg pulled the last named horse, allowing a job to go through. Corrigan wanted McGavock to rule all the parties connected with the job off and declare all bets off, but he refused, saying he could see no traud in the race. He agreed, however, as a compromise, to suspend Gregg pending an investigation. This did not suit Corrigan, who wanted the race declared off, so that no bets on Bon Air would be paid. The result was that he and McGavock agreed to disagree, and so Hawthorne is without a presiding judge.

a portion of whose string is now quartered at the course across the river, has a hard-luck story. Lucas, it seems, has been anxious to secure a good jockey for some time past and when he became aware of the fact that Tom Hazlett was disengaged and ready to ride he immediately secured him. Hazlett, however, had been ruled off at Garfield Park last summer, but Lucas' influence was sufficient to secure his reinstatement. Bob's reputation as the owner of a stable of horses that are always out to win was what induced the Garfield Park authorities to give Hazlett, who, by the way, was considered one of the best riders at his weight on the Pacific Coast in 1991, another chance. What was Lucas' misfortune, after having nim reinstated, but to receive a dispatch stating that he was seriously ill and his death is expected to take place at any moment.

day. The remaining races were captured by a second choice and a 6 to 1 shot. Mandy Brooks at 7 to 10 and 4 to 5 won the inaugural scramble by four lengths from Harka. Joe Edwards at 2 to 1 and 8 to 5 was successful by a neck from Christina, driving. In the next race Belshazzar at 3 and 2 to 5 won the third event with some two lengths to spare from Jennie V. Van Zant, who was backed down from even money to 3 to 5, was beaten out by Envy, a 6 to 1 shot. Abe Halstead, at 6 to 5 and 5 to 2, won the closing scramble by a head from one of the favorites, Grey Minnie.

NEW YORK, Feb. 10.-Jimmy Larkins, the 122-pound pugilist of Jersey City, says that he is anxious to meet any featherweight in the world. Johnny Griffin preferred.

the world, Johnny Grimn preferred.

Judge Newton of the Coney Island Club has promised Larkins a purse to fight Griffin, provided Dixon refuses to make a match with the Braintree lad. Larkins was once defeated by Griffin in New Orleans. In speaking of his defeat, Larkins said that Griffin knocked him through the ropes and in the fall he sprained a tendon in his right leg. leg.
"I came up for the last round all right," he said, "but my leg doubled up and I was on one knee looking up speaking to the referee when I was counted out and Griffin

JOHNNY DALY AND MIKE MOONEY. The proposed contest between Johnny Daly and Mike Mooney will hardly take place.

Mooney's backer, it seems, was willing to furnish whatever side stake was necessary, butwanted to take all that his money won, if Mooney succeeded in 'defeating Daly, which would have left Mike nothing for his trouble but the gate receipts. Now, it is customary for the backer in a fight, where a side stake is up, to give his man, providing he won, one half the side stake, and Mooney when he agreed to fight Daly thought, of course, that his financial backers would do this. His astonishment can be imagined when he learned otherwise and he refused flatfooted to fight. Daly's backer made no secret of the fact that he intended giving his man all the side stake, if he won, which caused Mooney to conclude not to fight unless treated haif as well. The whole affair was the result of a discussion between the two backers as to the merits of the two men, and Mooney was willing to accommodate his backer, providing the latter did not ask him to fight for glory exclusively. The parties concerned met yesterday and after talking the matter over concluded to drop it for the present. and Mike Mooney will hardly take place.

CORBETT IS A FAVORITE. Around the ringside at the Coney Island Club last Monday night the sporting lights of the country discussed the anticipated meet ing between Mitchell and Corbett. An enter ing between Mitchell and Corbett. An enterprising newsgatherer went among them and culled the following opinions:

Judge Newton: "It will be a great fight. I don't pick winners, but the Coney Island Club will win the fight for the match."
"Yank" Sullivan of Syracuse: "Corbett will win sure. He is too big and quick for Mitchell."
Referee Eckhard: "It will be the best fight ever seen in this country. Both men are wonders."
P. J. Donohue: "Mitchell will make a better fight than most people expect."
Jack Cusick: "Mitchell should win inside of fifteen rounds. He's game, and I don't think the other fellow is."
Warren Lewis: "I'll bet $1,000 that Mitchell wont make the match. He told me he wouldn't fight any young fellows. That's authority enough for me."
Mattle Corbett: "Jim should win in short order."
Pat Powers: "Corbett will get all the money."
Brigham Young of Philadelphia: "Corbett Brigham Young of Philadelphia: "Corbett Brigham Young of Philadelphia: "Corbett will have a picnic."
Vernie Burton: "Mitchell is too light for Corbett."
Dan Murphy of Boston: "Mitchell will put up a surprising fight."
Mike Brady of Lynn; "I like Corbett."
"Bliy" Maloney of Boston: "Mitchell ought to win."
"Sparrow" Robertson: "Corbett will win, sure."

"Sparrow" Robertson.
sure."
John Ryan of Brooklyn: "Mitchell will surprise some of the boys, but I'm afraid his hands are not good enough."
"Honest" John Kelly: "Corbett, sure.
Mitchell is too fast a liver."

Putisistic Pointers.

Pat Sheedy, Sullivan's ex-manager, en route to Mexico, stopped over in town long enough to reiterate his former critteisms of Corbett and go on record as saying the Mitchell-Corbett fight would never come off. Dick Guthrie of Montreal and Joe Tansey, former-ly of this city, met Sunday morning in Chicago and Guthrie won in elswen rounds. The fight was a hot one from the start and the hundred spectators were well pleased with the mill.

Tom Ryan and George Dawson met at New Orleans last Saturday for the first time. The men shook hands cordially, expressed themselves pleased at the hands cordially, expressed themselves pleased at the introduction afforded them, and then both left for their training quarters to "fit out" for the battle, which will make or unmake one of them.

which will make or unmake one of them. People who take their cue from writers whose ambition is to gain notoriety by abusing Corbett may find something to open their eyes in the story telegraphed from Milwaukee of Corbett's public expression of willingness to meet Mitchell or Jacksen at the end of his theatrical soason. Of course there is no news in this. The champlon has said it time and again and reiterated it when he was in this city, but people whose only claim to public attention is blatant abuse of the champlon cannot admit it.

The White Star Line steamer Tauric from Liverpool, overdue, is causing greater interest jamong sporting men the country over than the Umbria, City of Pekin or any other delayed vessel.
